WALTHER STRONG®

Timber treatment only protects the surface and offers little defence once the timber is cut or drilled. On sleepers, retaining walls, and other landscaping timbers, exposed end grains and cuts absorb moisture quickly, leading to rot and early failure.

While Walther Strong Deck Tape is the proven solution for joist tops, it isn't always practical on irregular or hard to reach areas. That's where Walther Strong HD Timber Coating excels. Its quick drying, rubberised, waterproof formula seals cut ends and exposed surfaces, making it ideal for sleeper retaining walls, tops of posts, and end grains.
